With the new studbook Holstein Global the Holsteiner Verband has extended the range of the breeding programme to allow breeders with outside-blood horses access to Holsteiner breeding.

The new studbook Holstein Global is on a par with the traditional Holsteiner studbook, so non-Holsteiner mares as well as stallions and their offspring may be bred within the Holsteiner breeding programme in various combinations.

STUDBOOK HOLSTEIN GLOBAL FOR MARES

Mares registered with one of the WBFSH affiliated breed societies listed in the articles of the Holsteiner Verband can be presented for registration into the studbook Holstein Global at various inspection and registration sites in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, and abroad.

OFFSPRING PRODUCED BY THESE MARES

The mare’s produce – the next generation – will then be entered into the studbook Holstein Global, provided that the foals are by a stallion listed in the Holsteiner Verband stallion book I. The foals, being 50 percent Holsteiner horses, are entered into the Holsteiner stud book and issued Holsteiner registration papers. Foals registered in this way are eligible for registration into the traditional Holsteiner Verband stud book I for mares as 3-year-old fillies whereas colts may be presented for Neumünster stallion grading pre-selection.

STUDBOOK HOLSTEIN GLOBAL FOR STALLIONS

Upon application, any at least 3-year-old stallion may be registered into the Holstein Global stallion book provided that he has been approved by and registered with one of the WBFSH affiliated breed societies listed in the articles of the Holsteiner Verband and has documentation of age-appropriate stallion performance testing

Offspring opportunities for advancement

- ➔ foal (Holstein Global): registration into studbook Holstein Global with original Holsteiner registration papers
- ➔ 3-year-old fillies (Holstein Global): registration into studbook I for mares, may qualify for the Elmshorn elite mare show
- ➔ 2.5-year-old colts (Holstein Global): may be presented for preselection to Neumünster stallion grading

OFFSPRING BY THESE STALLIONS

Offspring sired by these stallions is registered in the Holstein Global studbook, provided that they are out of a dam listed in the traditional Holsteiner studbook and issued Holsteiner registration papers. Same as with the mares, female and male offspring will be given the same rights and opportunities as traditional Holsteiners in the selection process.
